

No. 22,298. (Registered at the General Post Office, Sydney, for delivery by post as a newspaper.)

SUMMARY.

A terrible tragedy occurred on Thursday night at the Imperial Institute, where a musical "at home" was held.

An Indian student armed with two revolvers and a dagger shot dead Lieutenant-Colonel Sir William Wylie, political A.D.C. to the Secretary of State for India.

The assassin also fired at Dr. Laloo, an Indian Parson, who died almost immediately after he was shot.

There was found on the assassin a card bearing the name of Dhanraj, with Baywater as an address.

The man, who was seized by the bystanders, struggled violently.

He endeavored to shoot himself with the revolver, but the trigger clicked harmlessly. He was eventually secured.

Further shocks of earthquake have occurred at Hastings and Reggio. The inhabitants are panic-stricken.

Several people were injured, some being buried under fallen walls.

The London Chamber of Commerce is promoting machinery to carry out Lord Charles Balfour's demands for strengthening the navy.

The Congress of the Federation of Trade Unions was opened at Liverpool on Thursday.

It was held in the Britannia Hotel, and was attended by a large number of delegates.

The Lyceum Club held a reception in honour of the delegates to the Imperial Free Conference.

Mr. A. S. Hard, in an article in the "Fortnightly Review," suggests the establishment of a permanent Imperial Police force of nine cruisers of the indomitable class.

He proposes that this squadron should be distinct from the British Navy, and that the Dominions should each contribute a unit, and British four units.

The London "Daily Mail" says that the Allied Force Committee cannot meet for months.

It further states that the Government has ceased to regard the project as practical.

The debate on the confidence motion was further adjourned in the House of Representatives until Tuesday.

Presumably the whole of the time in the debate has been occupied by the members of the Labour party.

It is possible to substantially reduce these figures, he says, by making notification of the disease compulsory, and by the establishment of the dispensary system.

The provisions of the Federal Quarantine Act came into force on the 1st inst.

The storekeeping tactics of the Federal Labour party in connection with the Supply Bill resulted in a number of workmen in Perth being discharged.

The men were discharged owing to the Government having no money to pay them.

The workmen have decided to establish a fund of 100,000,000, and by the establishment of other things, a uniform rate of wages.

The Public Works Committee took further evidence on the proposal to extend the Sydney Harbour Bridge at the entrance to Newcastle Harbour.

Mr. L. A. Wade said that at present it was necessary to build a new bridge.

According to the Lord Mayor the new bridge will be ready for occupation in November next.

The erection of this block will mean the closing down of the Woolloomooloo fish market.

The quality of dogs exhibited at the British Terrier Club's champion show yesterday was of a high standard.

In point of numbers the show was a record, particularly in respect of Irish terriers.

The Goomahli Hotel, near Corowa, occupied by the members of the Federal Labour party, was burnt down on Tuesday morning. The family had a narrow escape.

ASSASSINATION.

INDIAN STUDENT SHOTS A.D.C.

EXCITING STRUGGLE AT IMPERIAL INSTITUTE.

SHOCKING EXPERIENCE OF VICTIM'S WIFE.

"IT'S MY HUSBAND—MY HUSBAND."

After a musical "at home" at the Imperial Institute last night, an Indian student, armed with two loaded revolvers and a dagger, shot dead Lieutenant-Colonel William Hutt, C.M.G., A.D.C., to the Secretary of State for India, and also fatally wounded Dr. Lalacca.

Dr. Lalacca, who was an Indian Parsee, lately residing in Shanghai, died almost immediately he was shot.

Later.

There was found on the assassin's person a card, bearing the name "Dhinaraj," with Raynwater as an address.

Mr. D. Thourman, who witnessed the tragedy, made the following statement to a representative of the "Daily Mail":

"It occurred on the square leading between the hall and staircase, which is used as a smoking-room. In this place I saw Sir William Wyllie apparently conversing with an Indian student wearing a pale blue turban.

"Suddenly the latter drew a revolver from his pocket, and presenting it at Sir William Wyllie, shot him in rapid succession. The muzzle of the weapon was at the time quite near Sir William's face.

"The student fired a fifth shot at Sir William, and another just as he fell. This last shot struck Mr. Lalacca, who was standing three yards away, in the breast.

"I rushed at the assassin, but another was also springing at him. We both seized the Indian, who struggled violently. He managed to wrest one hand free, and immediately pulled a revolver against his own head and pulled the trigger, which, however, clicked harmlessly. Eventually we secured him.

"A crowd quickly gathered, and a medical man who examined him at once pronounced Sir William Wyllie dead.

"Just then a stately woman ascended the staircase and exclaimed: 'Poor fellow! as she looked at the Englishman's body. The assassin then fled at such a rapid pace that he disappeared in the crowd. The woman knelt down and looked into his face, and then became horror-stricken, but said quite quietly: 'It's my husband—my husband. Why was I not with him?'

"She had left him only a few minutes before to fetch a cloak, and he was following her when the assassin engaged him in conversation."

POLITICAL ASSASSINATION NO MURDER.

In yesterday's issue of the paper "Krishnamurthy," an Indian Sociologist wrote:—"Political assassination is no murder."

Lieutenant-Colonel Sir William Hutt Curzon Wyllie, K.C.I.E., C.V.O., was born at Cheltenham in 1846, and was the youngest son of the late General Sir William Wyllie, G.C.B. He joined the 10th Regiment Light Infantry as ensign in 1865, and entered the Indian Staff Corps in 1869. The following year he joined the 4th Commission, but transferred to the 1st Commission in 1870. He served in Beluchistan under Sir Robert Sandeman during the Afghan War in 1878-80, and he accompanied General Sir Robert Phayre's force to the relief of Kandahar. He was decorated in recognition of these services. He was also appointed military secretary to the late Mr. P. A. Adam, Governor of Madras, and later private secretary to Mr. Hutt, and afterwards Acting-Governor. He held successively the appointments of Resident of Nepal, Governor-General's Agent in Central India, and Governor-General's Agent in Rajputana. He had been Political A.D.C. to the Secretary of State for India since 1902. His wife, Mrs. Curzon Wyllie, was the daughter of the late Mr. D. P. Carmichael, late of the Madras Civil Service.

THE PRESS DELEGATES.

The press delegates and the League of Nations Committee have made the existing organisation permanent, to consider the interests of the press of the Empire as a whole, and to arrange future conferences. It has been decided to establish an Empire Press Association. This is to be restricted to daily newspapers, all on a basis of equality, with associations and committees in each dominion or dependency, and a secretariat in London.

Mr. C. A. Pearson, who has hitherto been president of the meeting at which these decisions were arrived at.

THE ALL-RED ROUTE.

SCHEME IN ADEQUATE.

The "Daily Mail" says that the All-Red Route Committee has not met for months, and that the Government has ceased to regard the project as practical, but the scheme may be revived when the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway is complete, and the White Star line is able to establish a service between Prince Rupert Bay and Australia.

EMPIRE DEFENCE.

CANADA'S LOYALTY.

THE FORTHCOMING CONFERENCE.

LONDON, July 2.

At the Dominion (Canada) Day banquet held in London last night, Lord Strathcona, High Commissioner, presiding, Earl Grey, Governor-General, in course of a speech, remarked that Sir Wilfrid Laurier had been more than justified in saying that it was necessary to maintain the naval supremacy of the Empire Canada was prepared to spend her last dollar and give her last man.

The Earl of Grey, Secretary of State for the Colonies, hoped that the result of the forthcoming conference would be to make the defence of the Empire a coherent whole, and such a reality as would enable it in time of danger to face any risks to which the Empire might be exposed.

AN IMPERIAL SQUADRON.

BRITISH JOURNALIST'S SUGGESTION.

AKIN TO AUSTRALIAN IDEA.

LONDON, July 2.

Mr. Archibald H. Hurd, a member of the editorial staff of the London "Fortnightly Review," in an article of the "Fortnightly Review," as an outcome of the offer of Dreadnoughts by New Zealand, suggests the establishment of an Imperial flying squadron of nine cruisers of the Indomitable class.

He proposes that this squadron should be distinct from the British navy or any colonial navy that might be established, and that New Zealand, Australia, Canada, South Africa, and India should each contribute a unit, and Britain four units, thus enabling one vessel to be held in reserve, and eight to be always at sea.

Mr. Hurd estimates that an annual cost to India and each of the dominions would be £213,500 that amount covering interest and sinking fund, pay, and repairs. The flying squadron, he says, would pay frequent visits to the colonies.

Curiously enough, in an article in last Tuesday's "Herald" traversing the proposal that would probably be put before the Defence Committee, the editor of the "Herald" stated:—"But there is another idea which is being given increasing prominence. Federal squadrons, on which it carried into effect would render even more distinct the colonial participation in the Empire's defence. It is that the colonies should combine to supply an increasingly powerful cruiser squadron, to which might be handed over the policies of the empire of the King's dominions. Such a squadron, though contributed by India to four dominions, would be a homogeneous machine, under single direction, and available for duty in any part of the world. The other British student mentioned in the cable, was awarded a P. M. Russell scholarship for mechanical engineering at the University of Sydney, and passed through the engineering course with distinction. Last year he was just elected to the engineering department, and carried out some research work in regard to the theory of the steam engine in the Cavendish Laboratory, at Cambridge.

TRADES UNION CONGRESS.

CONCENTRATING CAPITAL.

LONDON, July 2.

Mr. Peter Curran, Labour member for Jarrow, in opening the Congress of the Federation of Trades Unions at Blackpool yesterday, recommended that a fair trial should be given to the Government's scheme in regard to labour exchanges.

Mr. J. A. Reddon, Labour member for Newcastle, suggested the miners for settling their recent differences with the employers. He declared that the sooner the trades unions now outside the federation joined it the better, as it would enable the concentrated capital in the federation to meet the attack of organised capital outside.

A NEW YORK INCIDENT.

LONDON, July 2.

Mr. G. W. Smalley, the New York correspondent of the "Times," states that the general interpretation of the dismissal is that General Bingham has been sacrificed to Tammany.
